

04 01 20.91 – Unit Masonry Restoration

1. General

- A. In renovation projects involving exterior brick, existing units shall be carefully removed and reused if possible. Units to be reused shall be stored carefully with adequate protection and ventilation. If new material is needed, it shall closely match the existing wall.
- B. Masonry joint repairs for older structures shall be made in accordance with requirements of historic structures with regard to proper mortar mix, color range and proper pointing procedure.